STANISLAUS-LOYOLA FOOT BALL GAME 7-7 PLAYED TOWARDS END IN TEEMING RAIN.

Sunday's Football Game.

The Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws lived up to their good reputation Sunday by holding the heavy Loyola Eleven of New Orleans to a 7-7 tie. Although part of the game was played in a pouring rain good brand of football playing was displayed by both teams.

On the kick-off the Loyola team received and brought the ball several yards towards the Rock-a-Chaws goal. They then attempted to gain by end runs and line bucks, but were held for down by the fighting Rock-a-Chaws. The ball then came into possession of the college. They succeeded in gaining via end runs by Gex and Fruge. Fruge somewhat startled the visitors by his classy "sprinting" gaining thirty-five yards on an end run the first time he received the ball. However good the Rock-a-Chaws played in this part of the game they failed in the attempt to make a touchdown, and when everyone had begun to think that the score would soon be seven to nothing they lost the ball on downs. Then Mr. White called himself kicking his team out of danger. But the quarter ended with the ball on Loyola's thirty-yard line and things looking pretty gloomy for them.

Both teams played excellent football in the second quarter. The Rock-a-Chaws received the most praise, for it was in this quarter that they made their lone touchdown. The touchdown was made by the "Speed Demon" Fruge. It was the result of a trick play which startled all who witnessed it. Some people did not see much, such as who carried the ball over, but stood so amazed when playing ceased, and Captain Glover marched out to kick goal, which he did successfully. The quarter ended with the ball close to the Loyola goal, with both ends fighting hard.

Loyola played its best in the third quarter. It was in this quarter that they made their touchdown. The touchdown came during the first part of the quarter when Glover fumbled. Gibson recovered the fumble and carried the ball over for his team in great form—that is after he had kicked the ball part of the way, but nevertheless he was finally able to outrun the ball and carry it over. This ended the game insofar as touchdowns were concerned as this was the last one made. The remainder of the game was hard fought by both teams in a pouring rain. The score would have probably been different had old "Jupe Pluvius" not decided that the game was too dry.

The features of the game were the playing of Glover, Fruge, and Gex in the back field, and Cerniglia, Reed and Brittingham on the line for the locals. While Gibson played a good game for the visitors.

ESTIMABLE WOMAN GOES TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Ferdinand J. Ramond Passed Away at Early Hour Tuesday Morning While Attending to Household Duties.

Mrs. Ferdinand J. Ramond died at her home in this city Tuesday morning at 7:45 o'clock, November 15th, 1921.

Although apparently well, up and about her household duties as usual, death was sudden. Two weeks previously, Mrs. Ramond had been stricken with a severe stroke, but she had gotten better from this and apparently was on the high road to health again when the end came. She had risen that morning and breakfast had been disposed of, and all seemed well. The shock was a great one, and even to the community in general though it had been known that she had been ill a short time previously. Learning of her marked improvement the end was totally unexpected.

Mrs. Ramond was a woman of marked attainments, gifted with talent and endowed by nature. A woman of native intelligence and education and executive ability, she could have gone out in the world and taken her place with those who seek a mark. But she had chosen and rather remain queen of the home, where she was loved and honored by large an ideal family. Like the devoted wife and true mother that she was, she filled the chosen and blessed sphere gifted with every attribute that heaven could bestow. When her spirit took its flight the gates of heaven opened and the angels chorused the acclaim of welcome.

The demise then of this estimable woman, wife, mother, neighbor and resident removes from Bay St. Louis one whose place no one will fill; whose loss to the family is irreparable and to them goes out the tenderest messages of sympathy with all the eloquence that human love can inspire.

Yet a young woman, a native of Pass Christian, aged 47 years, seemingly she would have much to live for, but it is not for man to question the inscrutable wisdom of the Master who giveth and taketh. We must accept our sorrow with that courageous spirit of "O, Lord Thy will be done" although our hearts be at bursting point and our eyes blinded and cheeks covered with scalding tears.

Mrs. Ramond had been a resident of Bay St. Louis for twenty-three years, since the time of her marriage. She was before her marriage Miss Agnes C. Adam, a sister of E. J. Adam, former editor and publisher of the newspaper at Pass Christian, but now postmaster at that place.

Besides other relatives she is survived by her husband and five children—two daughters and three sons, Misses Theresa, Regina and Ruby—Ferdinand and Earl.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from the late residence in State street, services at the Catholic church conducted by Rev. Father Paul, who also conducted the ceremony at Saint Mary's Cemetery, where the remains were tenderly laid away. In tribute to her memory and attesting in a great measure of the love and esteem in which Mrs. Ramond was held, the newly-made mound was literally covered with an abundance of flowers. These were varied, beautiful and expressive though mute in voice yet rich in meaning.

PERSONAL AND NEWS ITEMS FROM TODAY'S PASS CHRISTIAN BEACON.

Postmaster E. J. Adam was called to Bay St. Louis on Wednesday on the sad mission of attending the funeral of his sister, Mrs. F. Ramond. Simon Engman, with the Bay St. Louis Branch of the Hancock County Bank, spent a part of the week in the Pass greeting old friends.

Henry Ware is now having assembled material for the construction of a large brick garage on his lot on Front street adjoining the Northrop store.

Work on the new post office building will be commenced in a few days. All the material is now on the ground. Mr. A. S. McDonald has the contract for the brick work and Mr. A. J. Demetz will do the carpenter work.

Construction of Enough Plants to Use Power Generated Part of Ambitious Schedule.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—With the declaration that if he acquires possession of the Muscle Shoals (Ala.) nitrate plant one million men now idle will be put to work, Henry Ford, of Detroit, today arrived in Washington to confer with Secretary Weeks Friday in an effort to close the deal for the big government project.

He remained tonight aboard his private car, where he received his agent, J. W. Worthington, of Sheffield, Ala. Regarding his attitude relative to the change in the original proposal which the government considers necessary to be made, Mr. Ford declined to commit himself. So extensive is the plan of the manufacturer for the development and utilization of the Muscle Shoals power however, that the Secretary, it is learned, is optimistic to the point of believing that Mr. Ford will be agreeable to any reasonable compromise which might be suggested.

Mr. Ford's approach was heralded by announcement on the part of his agents that if the government permits him to acquire control of the $100,000,000 properties of the Tennessee river, he will put the South "on the map."

Hast Vast Program.

According to such announcement it is the intention of Mr. Ford to connect his plants in Michigan and Ohio with Muscle Shoals by means of a large barge line to be operated on the Ohio river to connect with Muscle Shoals and the tide water by a rehabilitated railroad running north from Mobile to draw every ounce of power the Shoals are capable of developing, which would amount, he estimates, to one million horsepower, and to construct enough plants to utilize that amount to construct automobile and tractor factories, cotton mills and aluminum plants; to co-operate with Thomas A. Edison on that point and to the end that nitrates filched from the air will be sufficient to fertilize the area of the entire cotton belt, and to give employment to one million men now idle.

Mr. Ford is also in the market as a prospective purchaser of all the naval armament of the world, which as a result of the armament conference will be junked.

Thanksgiving Bird From Mississippi Sent to President Harding.

With preparations completed for a journey "in state," with elaborate decorations in everything, "Gambel's Turkey," the Thanksgiving gift of W. H. Mason, of Crystal Springs, to President Harding, departed from Jackson late Tuesday evening in the custody of Maze H. Daily, prohibition director for Mississippi, on a trip to the White House. The turkey, which weighs fifty pounds, is said to be insured for $500.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, it has pleased God to call from our midst to the life eternal the beloved wife of Ferdinand Ramond, our Most Worthy Sir Knight, who died at their home in Bay St. Louis, Miss., on November 14th, 1921 and

WHEREAS, it is becoming that permanent memorials should be made of those who have lived their lives well not only as a recognition of duties fully met and performed but incentives to those who shall come after;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that in the death of Mrs. Ferdinand Ramond we have lost a true, faithful friend, wife and mother, and whose loss is universally deplored.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of Bay St. Louis, Tent No. 67, Order of the Maccabees and that a copy be sent to the family of our Sir Knight Ramond.

EDWARD HINES RETURNS FROM EUROPE.

Visited Spot Where Son Died in World Conflict—Bury Bed in Which Son Died.

Edward Hines of Chicago, president of the Edward Hines Yellow Pine Trusts, owning mills at Lumberton and Kiln, Miss., spoke at the Will L. Pigford Auditorium Monday night to the people of Lumberton and vicinity about business conditions in general and in particular about a recent trip to Europe. While in Europe Mr. Hines went to the exact spot his son was killed in action, and bought the bed in which his son died in. Mr. Hines returned from Europe a few weeks since, in time to be present at the dedicatory ceremony of the Hines Memorial Hospital (the largest in the world) at Chicago, officially known as the Speedway Hospital, a condition of the government accepting the gift.

General Foch was present at the exercises and paid glowing tribute to the valor of the son of the multi-millionaire who gave his all that others might live.

HARRISON COUNTY TAX LEVY 8.75 MILLS.

Hancock County Tax-Payers Will Read with Interest.

The Pass Christian Beacon, published over in Harrison County, publishes the following information concerning the new tax levy for that county. The rate is exceedingly high as contrasted with Hancock County's rate for last year. Hancock County's rate for this year has not as yet been fixed.

The Beacon says:

"The Harrison County Board of Supervisors has fixed the levy for general purposes at 8.75 mills; centennial fund, 5.3; special road and bridge, 1; agricultural high school bond fund, 1.8; agricultural high school, 3.4; court house and jail bond, 1.5; county farm bond, 1.2; special school, 4.5; special road fund, District No. 3, 3.4; Third district road bond sinking fund, 1.50; highway fund, District 3, 7; Dedaux Consolidated School, 35; Delisle consolidated school, 10; Lizana consolidated school, 8; Charles consolidated school, 14; Pineville consolidated school, 8.

ONE MAN SUPPORTS OLD SOLDIERS' HOME.

Mississippi Treasury Empty, Walter Lampton Assumes Burden.

BEAUVOIR, MISS., Nov. 18th.—One man is putting up the money necessary for the support and maintenance of the Jefferson Davis Soldiers' Home. He is Honorable Walter Lampton of Magnolia, who is a sure enough friend of the home. When the State Treasury ran out of funds in July there was no money available for the old soldiers' home. Mr. Lampton heard of the predicament and wrote Mr. Tarrt he would finance the institution until the Treasury could pay the warrants. It requires about $8,000 a month to pay all the bills of the soldier's home. But this does not bluff Mr. Lampton as is evidence by the following letter:

Magnolia, Miss., Nov. 5, 1921.
"Dear Mr. Tarrt—Telegram just received, stating that you had drawn on me for $7,500.00 or the soldiers' home. Do not hesitate to draw on me whenever the old soldier funds are exhausted, and I will help you out as long as it is possible. As I told you before I do not want the old soldiers to go hungry as long as I have any funds to give them assistance. With best wishes for yourself and Mrs. Tarrt, I beg to remain,
Yours truly,
W. M. LAMPTON."

PERMANENT STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

This Type of Construction Must Come as Night Follows Day.

The Coast Beacon, of today, gives editorial expression as follows on a vital subject confronting our people:

"While the construction of temporary roads may be all that many localities and counties can do at present the construction of permanent streets and highways are as certain to come as night follows the day, and the longer they are deferred the more expensive it is for the tax payers, for the money now spent annually must be duplicated each year, with no better or more lasting results than before. The construction of a mile of hard surfaced road is a permanent investment, while the build of other classes of driveways is only a temporary one, and a most unsatisfactory one in nearly every instance."

FIRST BASKET BALL GAME OF SEASON GIVES BAY HIGH VICTORY OVER LOGTOWN SCHOOL

Bay Hi Boys Win Over Logtown.

On Armistice Day, November 11, the Bay High Boys defeated Logtown in the first basket-ball game of the season, the final score being 41 to 8.

Both teams were well matched in size and weight but the Bay won out in celebrity. Our first goal was made by Ernest Erwin in the High School's forward.

At the end of the first half the score was 25 to 3 in favor of B. H. S. When the whistle blew for the game to start in the last half Logtown went in with determination written on their faces. But again lost, only gaining only 5 points and the "Bay" gaining 16.

Coach Bishop, of the S. S. C., was referee of the game.

B. H. S. Girls Win From Logtown.

On the 11th of November, the girls of B. H. S. ventured forth on the Basket-ball Court for their first game of the season with Logtown, defeating their opponents by a very close margin—25 to 24.

When the whistle blew both teams seemed confident of victory and for some time played neck to neck, until the last part of the first half when the Logtown Girls forged ahead to a four-point lead. The first half ended 13 to 9 in Logtown's favor.

At the beginning of the second half the Bay Girls, brimming over with "pep" knew that they must overpower their visitors, which they did after a few minutes play, when one Gertrude Perkins displayed a classy goal throwing, putting her team in the lead. They held this until near the end of the game when the score became a tie. A foul was called on Logtown with only forty seconds to play. Gertrude grasped the ball and by making another point won the game for her team.

The official referee for the game was Prof. Kelley, of Logtown.

Literary Society Meets.

The Literary Society met and a splendid program was rendered on Thursday, November 10:

Song—"Star Spangled Banner"—By school.

"Johnny and Johnny's Ma"—By Charles Stewart McMillan and Annie Louise McMillan.

"Twenty Froggies"—Alberta Casanova.

"Sing Robin Sing"—By 7 girls.

"Do you S'pose"—Carl Baker.

"Broken Dolly"—Charles Kergosien and Ruth Perry.

"Son of Mine"—J. C. Roland.

"Days of Week"—Seven girls.

"Bubbles"—Joseph Moore.

"Fairy Folks"—Earl Raymond.

"How Many"—James Vairin.

"Dolly Show"—Eight girls and two boys.

At our last meeting we had more visitors than heretofore, about sixty. We hope that these visitors will be present at our next meeting, with an addition to the number.

The pot plant which was given to the school, was brought to the primary department at the adjournment of the meeting. This is the second-time they have had the plant and the High School is anxious to bring it up in the study hall, which they will try to do at the next meeting of the Literary Society.

"Armistice Day" Honored.

Friday morning, November 11th, the pupils of the Bay High School and several visitors assembled to commemorate "Armistice Day."

The school children participated in a patriotic program. At eleven o'clock everyone was requested to remain perfectly quiet for two minutes and offer a silent prayer for the men who fought so bravely in the struggle for democracy.

Some of the especially interesting numbers on the program was a reading "Peace First in the Hearts of Men" by Robert von Ehren. An article read by Iva Baker; musical selection by Annie May Watts; readings by Dolores Landry, Elzie Toquet and Eunice Moran and short talk by Prof. McCluer were among the numbers of the program, which was very appropriate to the occasion.

Smiles.

A PATRIOT'S LAMENT.

I had a good name, Leon McClure, and they took it away and gave me a number, 494. I had a good job and they took it away and gave me a dollar a day. I had a comfortable bed and they gave me a stack of straw. I ate at a good table and they sat me down to mess at a wooden board on a bench between Fatty Arubuckle and Charlie Chaplin. I had my freedom to come and go when I pleased and they took it away and made me dog robber to a hard-boiled Lieutenant. And then one night they marched us up to the "Y" and a chap with a singing bowl got up and said: "Are ye weary, are ye hungry, are ye sore oppressed, 494? Up I jumps and yells, 'You bet I am.' And they gave me ten days in the guard house.

A FINE POINT.

Hammell—"What are you doing Ernest?"
Ernest—"Sharpening a bit of a pencil."

Hammell—"You'll have the union after you me boy, that's a carpenter's job."

HAVE AN OBJECT IN LIFE.

Mrs. Sylvester—"Pluck, my boy, pluck, that is the one essential to succeed in business."

Walter—"Yes, of course I know that. The trouble is finding someone to pluck."

TOUGH LUCK.

Miss Pearson—"Why do you wish two holidays for Thanksgiving instead of one?"

Alton—"Why ma'am we need an extra day to digest the tough turkey we are going to eat."

O! YOU CABIN.

Mr. McCluer—"What are the duties of a sheriff?"

Ernest—"He keeps order in the cabin."

AFTER THE TIMBER IS GONE.

Since we have repeatedly stated that it is only a matter of a few years that the timber resources of Mississippi will be exhausted, and that the lands which have been cleared will in reality become a desert, it is not surprising that many people are beginning to look for a means of saving the land from this fate. The answer is to be found in the fact that the land which has been cleared is still fertile, and that it is possible to grow crops on it. The only way to do this is to plant trees on the land, and to let them grow. This is the only way to save the land from becoming a desert. The only way to do this is to plant trees on the land, and to let them grow. This is the only way to save the land from becoming a desert.

HENDERSON POINT HOTEL.

Again the report is sent out that a new company has been formed, or possibly one of the older companies already in existence, is about to build the great tourist hotel at Henderson Point. Possibly this is so, but it is not our business to say so. The fact is that the Henderson Point Hotel has been sold to a new company, and that the new company is about to build a new hotel on the site of the old one. The new hotel is to be built on a site which is one of the most beautiful in the world. It is to be built on a site which is one of the most beautiful in the world. It is to be built on a site which is one of the most beautiful in the world.

A GULF COAST INDUSTRY.

Much compliment in print and word has been expressed in reference to the flower gardens of J. B. Adams & Son, florists, at Pass Christian. Each succeeding year, Mr. Adams has advanced in his profession of growing flowers on the Mississippi Gulf Coast until now his success attracts much attention, and he has turned this to a goodly financial profit. This fall, the place has been a riot of color, and the flowers are in full bloom. The flowers are in full bloom, and the place is a riot of color. HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Always put away food in earthen dishes.

Small white broom is a most effective clothes brush.

Best way to grease a stovetop is to use a piece of best suit tied in a cloth.

Finely ground oatmeal is excellent for cleaning light suede gloves and shoes.

Paper may be made to adhere to whitewashed walls by washing wall with vinegar.

To make kid gloves look like new after they have been cleaned, rub over with the white of an egg.

Few drops of lemon juice put into boiling rice will keep the kernels separate and make them white.

Kerosene spots can be removed with fuller's earth. Cover the spots with a thick layer of hot fuller's earth. Let it remain 24 hours, and then brush it off.

Almonds are easily blanched by covering with boiling water and stand two minutes. Drain, put into cold water and rub off skins. Dry between towels.

Before shrinking material sew on pin short tapes at intervals on the selvage so that the tape will hold the corners pin and there will be no mark on the goods.

Enamel ranges are quite the thing. They make them in blue, white or gray to suit. A new enamel has been made that does not crack or come off. They have smooth corners, with fewer joints. Enamel from the top to the bottom, even the burner taps, and only a damp cloth is necessary to keep the stove shining.

Small quantity of carbolic acid added to paste, mastic and linings will prevent mould. An ounce of acid to a gallon of white wash will keep cellars and dairies free of rot and agreeable odors.

ANNOUNCING THE PAN-AMERICAN Master Train Of The South

In line with its announced policy of increasing transportation facilities and improving its service to the people of this territory, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad will on December 4th, inaugurate a service between Cincinnati and New Orleans which for convenience of schedules, elapsed running time and modern equipment is surpassed by no other train in all the world.

"The PAN-AMERICAN" Master Train of the South will be brand new, from the great super-heated engines to the specially constructed observation cars, and will afford every convenience which adds to the comfort of modern travel.

"The PAN-AMERICAN" will make but five regular stops between New Orleans and Cincinnati and is designed to supplement the already excellent service between these points with a fast through train which will appeal particularly to business men.

Hours of arrival and departure at New Orleans and Mobile are most convenient. Definite schedules are announced with the next two weeks.

BAY CAFE THANKSGIVING DINNER $1.25

Special Rates for families, of more than three.

Dinner served from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.

—Many local friends of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Lichtenstein will learn with interest of their return to New Orleans a few days since from Portland, Maine, where they spent the late summer and early fall, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Fannie Rose, who spent the summer at University of Chicago.

—The shipping of fish along with raw oysters has become quite an industry. The Bay Sea Food Co., of which Messrs. A. Batistella and R. N. Blaize are proprietors, the latter active manager, are exceeding their shipments of fresh fish almost day after day. Local fishermen are increasing in number and find their pursuit profitable. The industry is expanding and the business it increases is noteworthy.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. de Montuzin returned home from New Orleans Wednesday evening, in which city they spent the early part of the week visiting relatives, and while attending to business also indulged in the social pastimes of the big city.

—Master Rene de Montuzin voluntarily remained at home, rather to forego the pleasures of a trip to "the city" than to absent himself from his studies.

—Dr. John A. Mead, county health officer for Hancock, has returned from Jackson, where he attended the Mississippi State Health Association convention. This county has been admitted into the U. S. registered area and henceforth reports on contagious diseases will be reported weekly to official headquarters. As county health officer, Dr. Mead has been quite active and alert to every interest of the public health which The Echo is pleased to note.

—Pasqual Piazza, father of Messrs. Anthony and Sam Piazza, underwent a serious operation for this eye in New Orleans Tuesday, and which has proven successful. Dr. Allen performed the operation. Mr. Piazza's trouble was a cataract which had formed back of the eye and in consequence the operation is unusually difficult in cases of such trouble. An operation is contemplated on the other eye which has been sightless for twenty-seven years.

—All lovers of athletics and friends of the college and collegians will assemble at the college campus tomorrow afternoon to witness one of the master games of the football season, which is now fast coming to a close. The fray tomorrow will be between the local team and Jefferson College's famous Eleven.

—The game between the two teams is called the annual classic and there is no doubt that it has been well termed. Don't forget tomorrow, at 2:30 P. M.

—The faculty of St. Stanislaus College gave the Collegians a holiday Wednesday and a picnic on the college campus all day, winding the day's festivities with a visit to the A. & G. Theatre at night. The occasion was the feast day of St. Stanislaus, the patron saint of the College. Although the day fell on a Sunday this year, the faculty thoughtfully gave the boys the holiday on a school day, selecting the day most convenient to the success of their work.

—Mr. John (Boy) Bangard and wife and his sister, Mrs. Ferguson, residing at Port Arthur, Texas, where we are glad to note they are doing well and prospering, spent Thursday in the city. They were guests at the home of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Bangard, and while here mingled with friends, all of whom were glad to see them. The party ran out here while in New Orleans with their father, Leopold Bangard, a patient at Touro Infirmary.

—Congratulations are extended Prof. Leon McCluer, superintendent of city schools for Bay St. Louis, whose good wife presented him with a handsome boy Thursday evening, who will be known in the world as John Woodruff McCluer, after a "buddy" of Mr. McCluer's "Over there." There should have been a holiday in the city schools yesterday. Although only here a comparatively short time, Mr. and Mrs. McCluer have formed quite a number of friends and acquaintances, with whose good wishes for all concerned we mingle ours.

—Street Commissioner Leopold Bangard underwent a serious surgical operation at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, yesterday morning, where he was under the knife of Dr. Clark from 9 to 11 o'clock. The operation was for the removal of a growth in the stomach, and reports to The Echo yesterday morning was to the effect that the results were more successful than had been anticipated and that the patient was doing well. Every hope for the rapid and permanent recovery of the patient is expressed by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. There is no citizen better known, personally esteemed and whose work for the city has been more thorough and generous than he, and the good wish of everybody who knows Commissioner Bangard is with him.

—Dr. J. H. Spence, DENTIST, Office C. Building, Main St. Hours 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, Friday. Phone 114.

—FARM WANTED—Wanted to

—The wise Xmas shopper will not forget the Specialty Store.

—Mayor R. W. Webb, Dr. A. P. Smith and Messrs. W. H. McDaniel and Thomas Quintini formed a hunting and fishing party to Honey Island a few days since.

—Mr. Adam Lorch came out from New Orleans yesterday for part of the day in the interest of his property here. Mr. Lorch reports Mrs. Lorch able to sit up and recovering from a most critical ailment of pneumonia. For awhile her condition was serious, but she has now passed the danger line.

—It is tax-paying time. Tax Collector Egloff is receiving for city taxes at the City Hall, where he may be found daily. Monies for the County and State, however, are not being paid, Collector E. Van Whitfield awaiting on the return of the assessor's books, where the State Tax Commission is holding them.

—Beautiful collie dog for sale. Telephone 89.

—The Echo notes with deep regret the death of Mrs. Max T. Blanchard, aged 50 years, which occurred at her home in New Orleans Tuesday, survived by her husband and grown children. Mrs. Blanchard, a resident of Bay St. Louis at one time, is well-known here, and the news of her demise will cause much sorrow. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Burg, of Bay St. Louis, and an aunt of Mrs. E. Van Whitfield. Mrs. Blanchard was the mother of the lad who met death here a few winters ago by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a friend who he accompanied while hunting. Her death was sudden. Only a short time since she visited her mother and father in this city and was apparently in the best of health. Mrs. Blanchard was a splendid woman, and her death, removes one who filled a most useful sphere and whose influence was ennobling.

NOTICE.

GIVE CHICKS SKIMMED MILK

Considered Desirable for Youngsters During First Week, According to Specialists.

Skimmed milk is considered by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture very desirable for chicks during the first week. In order to insure that all chicks get the milk it is advisable to dip the chick's beak in milk before it gets any other food. (This can best be done when removing chicks from the incubator.) Give milk to drink as long as it is advisable.

COLUMN DE BULL.

By Fuller Bull.

Last Sunday! Bo, do you remember anything about last Sun. except the way you didn't say your prayers? If you don't; well, I'm going to write you to the events thereof so you can copy same in your memory book.

Well, this particular Sunday just had to dawn, because that's the practice with Sundays anyhow, and the et cetera of the week. Well, bo, just when this here dawning proposition got in the bud, old man Jupe of the Pluve commenced one more horrible grouch against this world; he started spraying us insects good and powerful and the only letup was between sprays, when, I reckon, he was tanking up.

The head of the family set us on a course directed about S. S. W. 1-4 W, what landed our lone bark on the reef of the House of Brains and we had one dollar and forty cents worth of conservation, with Prexy and V. Prexy, which total furnished the Bull Brigade with Rah-Rah Flags, said later havin' formed a attachment to cute little bambos, to the altogether makin' you a degree member of the Yell squad and a squatter in the Sun parlor otherwise to the alast The Rooter's Root.

Old Jupe seemed to have had his period but it turned out to be nothing but a measly comma, for when them grid workers were putting the last p in pep, old foxy Jupe opened up all the valves and let her flow. Now, listen, Agnes, you superlative the word as far as you can, do it a couple more times and you'll have a inklin as how it's athletes—and the et cetera got soaked—and some. Them Rock-a-Chaws stuck to it like Rock-a-Chaws have a habit of doing and they proved as good seamen as they were gridders, and if old man Fate hadn't a butted in and knocked the Pig outa Automatic's hand, them Loyola Lollipops woulda gone home for bromo. Howthoesover it tied the score in a knot. If we'da only had a submarine in that last quarter we'da scored easy.

I got me a personal grouch against that green sweater guy what was doin' the refereeing, for every time the Rock-a-Chaws would get in smella distance of the tough-line, this galoot would back 'em up on a penalt—that looked more like contempt of court than football to me. I heard a fair rooterine delicately remark that she was hopin he take a spill and send that green ornament to the laundry—I wonder who gave him that.

We understand that there's goin to be a PEP meetin this week, to prepare a savory dish for our friends of old Jeff, what migrate here next Sab.

Hand 'em out a Rock-a-Chaw stew, boys, make it PEP-ery and they'll never digest it. Let's go, everybody, join the Cricket-Ruby brigade and show 'em PEP.

Among the notable events what evented of the recently was a outfit of Prominent Gentlemen of our burg who coralled all the live bait what could be coralled, took themselves off to a retreat in the La-marshes where the Finny tribe was convening. When the said P. G's made anchor and prepared to break records—and lines—they found that a convention of Stegomysias was the job to the advance and also. Them birds concluded immediately to conclude and retreat from the said retreat, when some guy makes the painful discovery that it was a gasless expedish. A cupla Waltons in a boat with a "Donald's Pride" over the stern was upreppening old Stego when some fella from the Santa Maria yells out: "Say, Billy, we're outa gas!" "No," answers Wm. who's havin his right ear on that side "No, I'm not goin in the grass, they're had enough here!"

Hot air wouldn't run it so they formed a hollow square and fit it out with Stego. All the Petro came. We understand that there's several blue crosses made out there by the Wonts-no-more.

We walked into the office of our friend, the Editor of the most Prominent Sheet—said walking into was during his absence. We reached up and turned on the light as tho we were in our Own Sancto Sanctorum rolled back the top of The Desk which disclosed the hiding place of the "Smith." and with the utmost Sag Froid proceeded to act as the We belonged, first by deliberately lighting our pipe and pushing our Hat back on the bald spot, sitting on The Chair and looking about for some Decent Paper. Well, you might find a Cobbler with a New Pair of Skates and you might find a Plumber with a dry bathroom, but you Are Not going to find any such Thing as nice looking writing paper in a Printshop. An Editors office is better described Geographically than Otherwise: It is bounded on the North by Clippings; on the East by Dust and Wandering Wayfarers; on the South by Typewriter, Gigantic Webster, numerous Pigeon Holes filled with Relics, unanswerable letters from Nosey Butters-in and Catalogues. On the West by the Portals which Hide the Principals that Form the Knowledge. The General Climatological Prevalence is contrary to the Outside World. Atmospheric conditions are Esthetical, and Highly Literary, with Romance glued to the Upper Walls.

We make a thoro search for the Paper we had in Mind, we find some that would stand high Litho work, we man-handle more that would advertise the sudden Demise of some Erstwhile Citizen, we form a parade of Ourselves and investigate the Ketnum Confines, then we return as Wee, heave a sigh, wonder why the Ass'n of Scribes don't start a Campaign of Procedure relative to the Betterment of Conditions and—well, we cover up our Bald Spot, Erase the Light and Move on as we Ever Editor—we—Oh, well, we know should, determined, that If we are we never will, so what's the Use.
